A Natural Religion for the White Race

We call our religion Creativity, and members thereof, Creators, because we believe these words describe the characteristic soul of the White Race. Although our religion is new, the laws embodied in our religion are not new, nor are they something we have invented. On the contrary, we have only observed and put into words that which Nature in her eternal wisdom has decreed for the survival of all her creatures from the beginning of time.

We believe that reality is more important than “believing” in the unsubstantiated ramblings of a wild and over-stimulated imagination. We believe that facts supported by massive evidence are a thousand times more valid and meaningful than supernatural claims that fly in the face of reason. We believe that evidence and judgment are basic in forming conclusions and decisions in all vital matters pertaining to our lives.

We believe a religion that is detrimental to the survival of a race is a bad religion. A religion that helps a race to survive, expand, and advance is a good religion for that race. Our creed is such a religion, and will have the most profound and far-reaching implications for the benefit and welfare of the White Race.

It is not our intention to make the White Race less religious. On the contrary, it is our intention to have the White Race become much more strongly devoted to religion that it is today, and above all, it is our objective to give the White Race a far superior religion than the self-destructive, suicidal religion with which it is now burdened.

We believe that the highest law of nature is the struggle of every species for the survival, expansion, and advancement of its own kind. We deem that for the White Race, this struggle is not only the highest law of nature, but also the foundation of our religious creed.

It is overwhelmingly clear that unless the White Race in this generations changes the suicidal course on which it is now embarked it will miserably perish from the face of this earth, overrun and inundated by a flood-tide of colored mongrels.

We are confident that in the near future the White Race will rally, unite, and embrace the Creativity program for its own survival.

Furthermore, we are convinced that if only one-tenth of the time, energy, and money, were spent in propagating our dynamic new religion as is spent on keeping alive the sick morbid religions now undermining our race, that Creativity would spread like wild-fire. We mean to organize all our good people and expend that energy – and more. United and organized the White Race is ten times more powerful than the rest of the world combined. We predict that our religion, Creativity, will be the supreme religion of the future. We predict that it will not only spread to all the corners of the earth, but will eventually supplant all other religions, barring none. We believe that such is inevitable.
